SUMMARY NOTES

LE: reviewed role of EOO, know [REDACTED] has worked with this office in the past, new emphasis on discussing release of information for public records requests or court orders, no retaliation, call me immediately if he feels retaliation, even if not adverse employment action.

Professor [REDACTED] met with Laura Eckert on September 19, 2013 and said he did not want to file a formal complaint, but requested assistance from the EO Office. He expressed concern regarding Senior Instructor [REDACTED] and specifically that last week his doctor had told him about that another doctor had approached [REDACTED] about doing an event about living with AIDS. Professor [REDACTED] doctor asked him if he knew the other doctor or if he knew [REDACTED]. According to Professor [REDACTED], his doctor then said "Your name came up about [REDACTED] creating a work about people living with AIDS." And, that then [REDACTED] allegedly said to the other doctor, "I have had issues with [REDACTED]"

Professor [REDACTED] wonders why his name would be brought up if it wasn't in the context of HIV. Professor [REDACTED] alleges that [REDACTED] may have disclosed confidential information regarding a protected category.

Professor [REDACTED] has his first Fall department meeting today and is not feel comfortable attending the meeting if [REDACTED] will be present.

As an outcome, Professor [REDACTED] wants to email the doctor. Laura Eckert talked to Professor [REDACTED] about an outcome that might be possible through the Equal Opportunity Office, such as facilitating a conversation with [REDACTED] to better understand her discussion with the doctor. Professor [REDACTED] asked Ms. Eckert to meet with [REDACTED]

Laura Eckert and Sue Guenter-Schlesinger met with [REDACTED] on September 27. [REDACTED] stated that she has not discussed [REDACTED] or mentioned [REDACTED] to [REDACTED]. She further stated that she has not talked with [REDACTED] about any health issue related to [REDACTED]

Laura Eckert talked with Professor [REDACTED] on October 3 and let him know [REDACTED] responses. Ms. Eckert told Professor [REDACTED] that this appeared to be an HR and leadership issue and encouraged him to talk with his department chair, Dean and/or HR.
